

Pre-budget 2019 submission from Dr Hv Dreher

1) welfare

it seems to be unsustainable – it is not unreasonable to ask/require people who choose to live in Australia to be self-sufficient, and support those who are really in need. In the current situation there is far too much rotting of the system. People should be, and actively encouraged to be self-reliant, and contribute to the country.

2) immigration

more is not better – there are severe constraints on resources needed for life – water and energy in particular.

3) trade and export

this business of ‘world trade’ and ‘open markets’ simply feeds the greed of the opportunists who are ‘smart’ enough to take advantage of the circumstances for their short-term gratification. Australia should be encouraged to be self-reliant – food, engineered products, services. How can it be that huge companies like Qantas, and Origin Energy, Adani blow-ins, and others, pay no tax, and that Australians companies and individuals are not prioritised over foreign interests, and that our resources (e.g. Darwin Port) are sold off to foreign interests ---- that is OFFENSIVE.

4) governance

Government’s job is to look after Australia for Australians – if you don’t do that you will be chucked out, and if there is manipulation, eventually it will lead to ‘civil disobedience’, and military-style coups that one sees elsewhere in the world where trust has been eroded.

5) mate ...

look out for Australia and Australians.
