One Tax & a Politician who cared

Condensation, packages hot rhetorical speeches <Drama> into the much smaller form - Similarly well intended 'Business planning' can also package good Ideas into the simpler forms of words and if the plausibility <physics> of this planning is added to the required infrastructure we all need <Matter> and contemplated against a document of truth <Constitution> the Idea must profit. The risk factor of course is in the appropriation of hindsight 'why?' when Chaos arises, <fallout> from a lack of time others purport when such ideas were supposedly supported. For this page I call a One outcome, the Truth, or in business terms, a 100% return on investment, principle that adheres well for one constitution and specifically assets on the people's balance sheet as non-for-profit infrastructure. The Ignition for more creative use in all this excess water headed our way could only deliver fertility to inland Australia and if the Government applied meaningful intentions to this forecasted problem, maybe many people in low lying areas could survive as climate change presents a period of Condensation. A policy that implements such Economy, plans to deal with these problems and I say grown up Politicians could aid in the prevention of all future misery, in developing the intentions to help these people.

Eighty million people by 2050 may need a little planning for I would say?....

The future of our Sovereign Nation is enormous just as the population doubles and that requires thoughts for collective public infrastructure being built consciously as public assets. Business needs a partnership over a period of time, through the good and bad times and with creative town planners we could raise all funding by creating asset value in 'Blue Sky' development. If our government searched for opportunity in the Elders teaching life skill to some University students, <Grandparent & Child> practically facing our problems, then the Country would have a unique micro-economic strategy to pass on greater business knowledge for known trade skills in the expanded enthusiasm of youth who learn by getting their hands dirty. We could have ignition for a prosperity boom in using many of the current non-productive people in society whilst developing the equity of Australia through lifestyle planning. Suddenly, personal value has a real chance to increase as you need to be needed, nurturing spirit, collects in the power of conductivity. A Game Theory -

I'm sick of doing what everyone else says is cool, to be that flamboyant, I'm not.....

A beautiful Summer is coming down under this year and considering relativity, Darwin, Newton, Wells, Einstein; inefficient Machines compared to our current heated emotions: a dollar buying thirty eight cents of Electricity - I find the basic Government policy is less efficient in the first place. The face of the Aussie male is - buried in that fishing magazine, watching that automobile program, riveted to the action, smiling like a bastard 'Yes!', crying 'AH!', yelling 'NO!' interacting as a try is scored - it is a positive experience for him: I'll call it Mans-Pash. A quality 'Resource' girls, understand his 'Passion' and use it always with a Woman's conductive ability, and you may well have all the things you need in life and a happy man. Imagine girl's, putting your real given skills to work, your power of absorption, over those complex thoughts, dedicated to administration of a purposeful life, nurturing the child within, and then imagine government policy for growth locally: and what if? life could become a whole lot less complicated over night - unloading all these varying speed limits, tax rules, tax returns & regulations over this & that. I bet your Summer face would profoundly change if Government policies of the future were formed

That plagiarized 'prosperity' to grow your future.....

A culture acknowledged is one that pleases - here is the oldest known continuously living culture on Earth and our awoken micro-power was now for people, collectively building for profit. Couture ennobles and strengthens personality and with 60,000 years of Indigenous - ness for sustainable micro profits, a laminar flow towards truer outcomes can be assured in the future for this Island I'll call the Ark. The value of culture generates profit - when it is implemented using the passion of Man. The mentor also gains personal equity value by development in a micro-community. The greatest business plans tell us we're going to cherish one thing above all else - the Water, Soil & Sky, manufacturing growth here locally, us profiting from us, a philosophy to see the light again each day and well pleased with the results of a satisfying day at work.

*Resolution can leave the Government Poets frustrated, and a mother torn, in sacrificing her Son for stories and opinions

More creative people please step up to the plate. The privilege of serving this great land must start with Intention. Positive values than forget about apocalypse, revelation, level playing fields and government conspiracy - The closing margin for the Dow Jones last week was 11:11 and my counsel is contemplation for these few years ahead. Mechanical theory & design can now align, as Newton's laws resonate in my head of opposite & equal force, I'll call Karma - use and be used, applying well to the current theory of level playing fields & TPP agreements. I'd like more control over my hard earned entitlements, safe secure investment, I can't afford to live on the pension, I am overloaded by tech these days, my eyes aren't so good anymore and the computer challenges me, I could use an aid - Maybe I could teach them practical skill. Our Elder's are struggling to eat & our Students are saturated in Debt.

Controlled markets we give our soils too that are sold with no ongoing local value.....

We each lose many seconds a day fighting a complex system of ignorance just as Earth varies the time for One turn each 24 hour day from one to four seconds, the heartbeat; I thought, that by helping common people profit and profiting from profit that our Bankers would understand our share price would increase? Our own values are set by others these days, distant level playing fields, we do not control our own Countries value from the heart. I've formed less value for our binary art forms that spew out, and I have also found that 'x' + 'y' + 'y' + 'y' equals One. Administration is needed in a period of mass exposure, sloppy ear pieces, mass produced art, commercial bombardment of customer values that sarcastically are trying to promoting a Mans-Pash by justifying service that isn't there? in cagey small print, all to delude shareholders.

So an ancient principle comes to mind "as above; so below".....

Yet the words of philosophers, politicians, prestigious leaders, I only hear that an opposite or that an equal applies. I consider duality in partnerships must equal One Word, called Truth. What if every person & company simply paid a ten percent consumption tax (with no input credits). The people have mandated that to do business on this Island, our rent is ten percent. That one policy would create ten times the revenue and ten times less paperwork, just from the cash society.

One tax for Australia, there you are, its out there, pick it to pieces. A productive policy that'll generate ten times government revenue.....

The accountant, 'the Joe' loses his ego, dedicating his business skill towards Innovation & 21st Century thinking. Team play for #Uranus to move, hopefully upwards, in having found his new forward thinking professional charter for Australian community, with a new found love for work that creates Life changing ways for many - and with business growth now forged into real politics shown as a Politician who cared from this new found personality. The useless overheads, 'the Poets' become Public Servants once more: now engaged by the voters to enlighten Many, into new businesses. Rhetoric & hindsight 'Why?' 'Because...?' considered as pathetic tools of manipulation had become unnecessary as Taxing the prosperity of consumption allowed us to live simpler lives, empowering the control over our own equity value, dramatically increasing receipts from 'bottom up' with big business paying a correctly apportioned fair share. Value adding to the people first before our mineral resources leave the docks. Less is best, un-complicate reporting, understandings our actual wage and getting it regularly is our prime concern Mr. 'x'.

The prosperity boom.....

As heat rises a Child comes to the World as One, un-effected, pure and whole, but somehow during the first month, "Time goes missing" his foreskin is cut off and she is condemned, One second of Process lost. I hope, that one day a man's emotions are as efficient as the given Son.

'Prime Minister', the people want a known overhead figure, A 5% levy on GDP growth as a government's set expenditure to promote us, and we expect the creativity of the men & women who are elected to be able serve us professionally and creative enough to implement our plans to be so. If less complicated ways came to the fore and the people had less decisions to make reporting on 127 taxes, could the Policy be ignored or justified as lacking in creativity. If consumption out, and imports in, were taxed simply the benefit would be enormous.

I see a headline news, "One tax & The Politician who cared...."

Look at what is happening now as this stinking personal chaos guides a divided Government hell bent on Globalization, improvements are needed, I mean we haven't even saved for aging retirement accounts. We could all have 'One constitution' for Australia, that provides for life, whatever colour, whatever religion, a known truth. Consider we have endless Gold reserves right here we'll never find. Emotion could be taken to a different dimension with less things to worry about, a nearby level of consciousness that is simple relief from rules, regulation over paper work, varying speed limits and those thoughts beam in simplicity, thinking about how much better life could be.

On-line Voting and referenda, over government, who implement policy for the people.....

An on-line Referenda system where the administration creates collective policies that relieves the emotions of many. I'd like to see the media rape prosperity, portraying grand scale repatriation, a row of run down local shops, inner west, a student and mentor, a creative local town planning initiative, a business major creating how the shops can trade once again, an Architect student who makes drawings that are real and has to resolve real development problems; of how the many depreciated assets lying dormant can be made beautiful again and profitable for the community's capital wealth developing sustainable engineering ideas to power the new development boom.

Show executives of banks there is far more profit in helping small business grow.....

And with a partnership over a time frame that profited from your prosperity, instead of charging these outrageous fees for the pleasure of controlling your savings funds. What if you, the people stood up and said 'Mr. P.M.' there is no energy crisis - develop a plan now that empowers the people and protects the soil, water & the sky as our future datum immediately. Creation is the most enthralling Human character, empowering the self motivated and savaged artist with a project in a time frame that generates value added profits for all.

White Bay becomes a clean energy source again and the fifteen hectares are revived for equity increase of pensioners.....

'Stop trying to fix us' The future public servant must learn in the House of Representatives to leave the personal abuse for home. Change can only come now with a period of active policy, that brings out innovation for profit. If the people had interest, say, in raising the equity value in millions of acres of dry land the profits would be unbelievable and as the rising water levels infiltrates inland and as the people flow in, a datum of truth brings simple guidance that everyone can easily understand.

you can't be a Religion, but you can be an Australian !

Responsibility in a future must be towards this great Island. Police departments and unions that implement preventive teachings, before the working life is undertaken, a productive defense forces that build their own technology, I could go on and on. One datum for our life is our spirit; 'she'll be right mate' Value add to the Oz product before its sold is One Tax. A simple policy that sounds pretty easy to implement. Industry created, town planners who now show you and I where opportunity can be found? Our hands are in the soil and our constitution states prescriptively, plus 'a value added tax' to all Australian hands before it is sold. That One tax would allow the people to have ten times the revenue for infrastructure. To speculate further one considers HECS debt of students to be evil, so why not convert HECS into a Super portfolio at the beginning of one's life. More Industry Super members and the Country saves for its future.

Creation must be the greatest future resource

The Art of Conversation has been lost in government and through mass communication we are now finding out what these guys have been doing procrastinating worldly policy whilst the Earth condenses. Officials caught scamming their allowances, there is no ideas for efficiency, the energy crisis that doesn't exist or the understanding of basic physics that could transform our economy overnight. There is no business acumen spoken in the rhetorical world of politics and we know that egotism fuels the short term goals. Are we electing the leftovers who couldn't make it in the real world to debate in a system of chaos "Who's to blame" for the Carbon emissions, Mankind or God. If only our prestigious leaders enlightened themselves of the fact that Oceans are rising each day, and much faster than predicted.....

If we understood the problems, minded our own business in World affairs and focused on the rising water locally, then maybe we have a chance to use it with the Elder's and Student's benefiting. Our leaders need to change there approach for, without the personal degradation, without trying to simply solve every chaotic issue; and without simply building our inefficient economy by giving away our soils, then and only then, can we face this rising water collectively and positively, controlling our Children's fate in our own planned outcomes.

I say the Profits, never explain 'why' they were so beastly, so greedy, writings so horrid of fate that becomes us scribed as if fraudulent. Theology I've read is consumed in the flames of inquisition, but should it be considered in reverse. Have the pilgrims manipulated ancient texts? There is no better political or media fodder for macro-business to stifle development, than to say climate change is not happening, when in fact retuning business towards sustainability increases profits enormously. Policy for the future of infrastructure & planning is the future for this Sovereign Island. The period that must follow equilibrium is a cool yet positive period and with courage to say - less complicate society's paper trail, stop the personal abuse, see our country as a Sovereign nation and implement One tax.

Your job description is now to serve, by promoting the people.
