term becomes Regulated Entity

Insert a regulations power to allow for list of regulated entities to be expanded later if necessary

Panel question 1: does the current draft s.1317AAA(b) – a corporation to which para 51(xx) Constitution applies -include a body corporate, as defined in s.9 of the Corporations Act. If it doesn't please add body corporate to the list of regulated entities so it is clear that companies being wound up or dissolved are included in the definition.

Please also amend provisions in part 9.4AAA so that there is a single term, used consistently across the part – currently company and body corporate are both used in this Part and it is unclear whether any difference between them is intended or not. From a policy perspective, we want the term which covers all companies and corporations to be used in each case so there is no confusion.

N/A			Move existing s.1317AE so that it follows immediately after existing 1317AB and before existing 1317AC	Amend Policy intention is that the three key protections offered to whistleblowers (1 being limited immunity from suit, the other two being the creation of offences (and no also civil penalties) to prevent them suffering any loss or injury as a result of making the disclosure follow each other in sequence in Part 9.4AAA
1317AC	Establishes offence of victimisation	Existing with modifications to subsection (1)(c) and (d), and addition of definition of detriment	Amend section to make it a civil penalty in addition to an offence by carving intention out of subsections (1) and (2) and adding a note that both of these subsections are a civil penalty provisions and that 1317S also applies. Note that s.337BD of the RO Act as a model for this change.	Amend Panel agrees Current amended draft section does not fulfil policy intention that this offence also be enforceable as a civil penalty in the alternative to an offence to encourage regulators to take action for breach of the provision. Panel s 22(a)(ii) agree The civil penalty can be committed unintentionally eg because it could be committed by someone whose state of mind cannot be attributed to the company or by omission because the company failed to have in place systems, policies and procedures to ensure all staff and contractors were operating in a safe working environment. It is axiomatic that a working environment is unsafe if staff or contractors can be victimised.

Amend

Detriment is defined in amended s.1317AC. If only the word “damage” is included in s.1317AD courts and litigants may be confused about whether detriment is also intended to be covered. Panel agrees.

Panel recommendation

Amend

The current draft does not fulfill the policy intention. The intention was that the claimant only have to establish a prima facie case ie that a disclosure had been made and that detriment had followed, and no more,

1317AD (1) Establishes statutory right to compensation for eligible whistleblower and any other persons who suffer loss or injury from the protected disclosure being made

Substituted

Delete the word “victim” everywhere it appears in this section and substitute with the word “claimant”

(4) Shifts onus of proof to defendant

New

Delete subsection (4)(a) and substitute with the claimant bears the onus of proving that the claimant made a disclosure that was protected under this Part and that the claimant suffered detriment part 9.4AAA generally is intended in anyway to undermine the ability of the company to seek contribution from third parties for the same loss or damage that the company is liable to pay to whistleblowers or other claimants.

2) injunctive relief can also be obtained under s.1324, including orders restraining the company, officers and employees from engaging in conduct that victimises or causes detriment to whistleblowers/other claimants

Insert in subsection (2) after existing draft 1317AE(2)(e) a new (f) is made for the purpose of obtaining legal advice, and provided that the information is disseminated to a lawyer in a form that will not breach subsection

Note this is a companion to 1317AA(1)(b)(iii).

(1)(b) unless the whistleblower consents in accordance with subsection (2)(e).

Insert new subsection (3) to provide that

(a) information contained in the protected disclosure may disseminated further for the purpose of the company investigating the subject matter of the disclosure,

Current draft does not fully reflect policy. Amendments necessary to avoid confusion and limit potential for abuse (where company declines to investigate citing need to avoid committing an offence under s.1317AE). Panel s 22(a)(ii) agree.

(c) it is not a breach of this section [1317AE] if the subject matter of the protected disclosure is disseminated further for the purpose of investigating the subject matter, or enforcing the provisions in this Part, or enforcing the law generally, provided that the information is disseminated in a form or fashion that will not breach subsection (1)(b), unless the whistleblower consents in accordance with subsection (2)(e).
