Hi,

As someone who donates to environmental organisations regularly I do not want restrictions placed on the expenditure of those funds if they are being spent on perfectly legal activities.

Cleaning up or repairing our environment is incredibly important, but it is just one part of what we need doing. Stopping our environment from being destroyed in the first place is crucial.

Both advocacy and on-ground environmental work are needed to improve our environment and safeguard our natural heritage

Each type of organisation should be able to make its own decisions about which path to choose. Being able to donate to either or both types of organisations is a democratic right.
