

I would like to add to the GST feminine hygiene products consultation.

Nursing pads which absorb excess breast milk are a hygiene product which needs to be included. They are changed regularly to ensure freshness and no staining of clothing. The principles are the same as for sanitary napkins.

Can consideration please be given to these.

Can I please receive feedback whether this will be accepted or not and if not, why not?