

To the Financial System Inquiry

I am a person. I am not wealthy. I am not poor. I am not stupid.

If any of you can tell me, with honesty, that anything but Glass-Steagall can stop the destruction of our society when the bubble bursts, then tell me now what it is!

Do not be fooled by the British Governments pathetic attempt to placate us – or are you happy to be treated in such a way?

This is our planet you are playing with and I know what is at the heart of it – so do you.

Do you think you will be rewarded for the bail-in by you-know-who? You have another think coming.

Look at your children and look at the flowers and the lorikeets and the sky, then tell me what you really know.

Good luck and join us in the race.....the human race, that is.

Sincerely,

Fiona Henson.
