

Currently, the age limit on discretionary contributions is 75.

I am 76, have a superannuation total around $40,000, and would like to add to it while I continue to work.

Put a cap on amount as well, so a person over 75 can contribute to their superannuation if their total is less than say $200,000 (or life expectancy times pension, or whatever).

Jim Brander