

Hello,

The superannuation system, through flat taxing is far too much of a budget burden. If the government is serious about returning to surplus, we need to start taxing superannuation earnings progressively as we do for normal income taxes.

The reduced tax concessions, which reach into the billions will go a long way to balancing the budget.

Regards,

Daniel Grieves
M: 0403359133