

Submission please establish a Postal Savings Bank for Australia.

Secretariat
Regional Banking Taskforce
Financial System Division
The Treasury.

Dear Taskforce,

I refer to the current task force receiving Submissions pertaining to establishing a Postal Savings Bank for Australia. What an excellent idea this would be for remote & regional Australian this would be, (probably since sliced bread).

All the private banks have abandoned remote & regional communities across Australia.

For example, my elderly mother for many years until fairly recent use to live in a regional community town in Queensland,

St. Lawrence. If it were not for the local Post Office located in this small town she had absolutely no access to be able to complete her banking. As she had no drivers license to drive many kilometres to the nearest town which has only now one private Bank left in that community! That Post Office in St. Lawrence Queensland thanks to none other than Christie Holgate helped secure & maintain not only the Post Office in that location but insured that all persons who live in St. Lawrence it provided those people the ability to conduct their personal banking.

The people don't care about private banks in these types of regional rural communities as far as they are concerned if the Government established a Postal Savings Bank that's all that they require is that every Australian has access to a local banking service being the local Post Office that has not abandoned the town.

I thank you for & greatly appreciate your assistance regarding this matter and look forward to a Postal Savings Bank for Australia being established for all Australians.

Regards,
Will Ingrey.
