

Postal bank

I wish to add my voice to the call for a postal banking service. The big 4 banks have abandoned regional Australians .there is no service anymore anywhere in this great country of ours.all the big 4 are interested in is digitising everything closing down branches and becoming an uncaring conglomerate of faceless nameless people who want total control of We the people finances. Well this is supposed to be a free country many pensioners and elderly folk do not like to do on line banking we like cash people in the bush are tired of being marginalised and not listened to.every town in regional Australia has a post shop.postal bank would be a great thing for so many communities. Elke selleck