Submission to Deductible Gift Recipient (DGR) Registers Reform By DRILL Performance Company Inc.

About DRILL Performance Company Inc.

One of Australia's leading youth dance companies, DRILL Performance Company Inc. (DRILL) supports young people to create ambitious new works of contemporary dance for their community. DRILL's projects provide collaborative creative processes that facilitate space for young people to tackle current and big questions. They develop their own artistic voices, supported and guided by inspiring professional and emerging artists. Based in nipaluna/Hobart, DRILL plays a key role the state in providing access for young people to high calibre artists and creative experiences, and is the only organisation in southern Tasmania which is providing an ongoing artistic program where young people are the key creatives in the development of performance work.

DRILL is an incorporated association that has Deductible Gift Recipient status for our public fund, which we received through approval to be entered on the Register of Cultural Organisations.

Our Feedback on the Deductible Gift Recipient (DGR) Registers Reform

After reviewing the key documents, we have the following feedback:

- We note that we already are required to provide existing reporting to both the ATO and ACNC, and the removal of reporting to the Arts Secretary (ROCO), would mean one less body that we need to report to.
- We support change in the application process, bringing the process in line with other DGR registrations, and reducing the time for approvals to around one month.
- We support the changes as proposed

Yours Sincerely

Lesley Graham
