
Apologies but initially Albanese government promised not to touch the franking credits but they are not keeping it.

Franking credits makes Australian shares attractive for Australian public.
But which means this will reduce in value and our super value.

I am against of this reform.

Thanks
Bahar