

Good afternoon, As self funded retirees in their seventies, we would like to express our opposition to the new Labor Government's proposed change to the franking credit system, and especially as the proposal could be backdated to 2016. This is in direct opposition to the announcements made by the Labor Party after the 2019 election, when they vowed to drop all intentions of meddling with the franking credits received by self funded retirees like us,. We have worked hard for 50 years, made arrangements for our own retirement as we were self employed all our working life, - we received no superannuation from anyone - no cushy government job with a large golden handshake at the end, and we ask nothing from the government in the way of pension, just leave us and our franking credits alone!
