

It wouldn't be the ALP unless it was stealing other people's money as soon as it lied it's way into power.

If the ALP is changing legislation without a mandate the election result should be nullified and a fresh election held.

Yours sincerely,

Australian Tax slave