

I suggest that you leave the good, honest and hard working Australian alone. I/we have worked all of our lives and paid all of our due taxes and wish to be allowed to live our life in peace and away from political interference.

I suggest the Labor Party chase up and close all of those loopholes, created by politicians, by the way, that allow the elite, including politicians, to game the system and beat their just and due taxes.

It is easiest to attack the little person because individually they can be taken to the cleaners.

I for one do not qualify for a pension card or any benefits because I worked hard and made my own way for a comfortable retirement. Leave me alone!
