

You should not be making any changes retrospective. Companies and individuals acted in accordance with rules at the time in good faith. Any change made retrospectively would be unfair and was not announced prior to election.

Post election changes like this undermines the faith we put in our elected officials.

We do remember.

Thanks

Bruce Read

Sent from my iPad