

Dear sirs,

I would like to submit my view on the imminent abandonment of the Franking Credits scheme which we have been enjoying since its inception by the then Labour Government, and wish to advise you that the benefit we have gained from it, and indeed the fact that you are proposing to make the collection retrospective of this benefit, would throw us into the realm of pensioners, and so become another burden on the Australian Taxpayers, as we would not have enough income without this benefit.

Yours sincerely,

Stephen and Barbara Schwarz
