

As a self-funded retiree, I do my best to avoid needing to apply for the aged pension. I am happy to continue paying tax but the proposal to change franking credits together with big losses in banking and other shares will probably make me eligible for the health card and a part pension.

The changing of government policies makes it difficult to remain independent.

Yours Sincerely,

Patricia E Trass