

As a self-funded (no cost to the government)retiree, I wish to object to the proposed changes which would have serious implications to a large cohort of the population and to the banking/business world in Australia.

Yours sincerely,
David Williams