- 16 2. Which of the following themes are most important to you? (Select 3)
Sustainable: A natural environment that is valued and sustainably managed in the face of a changing climate for current and future generations
Cohesive: A safe and cohesive society that celebrates culture and encourages participation
Prosperous: A growing, productive and resilient economy
- 17 3. Which themes or descriptions were most frequently discussed? (Select 3)
Sustainable: A natural environment that is valued and sustainably managed in the face of a changing climate for current and future generations
Cohesive: A safe and cohesive society that celebrates culture and encourages participation

Inclusive: A society that shares opportunities and enables people to fully participate

- 18 4. What do you see as the most important issues for future wellbeing?
Are these captured by the emerging policy themes?
Sustainable practices underpinning economic decisions, inclusivity of community voice in environmental decision-making, and cohesiveness and transparency between government and the community. These are captured somewhat by the policy themes- just not in as much detail.
- 19 5. How might the descriptions be amended to best reflect our priorities?
Be more community-focused, especially in areas of environmental participation within governmental decisions
- 20 6. Are there any indicators and existing data sources that will be critical to inform the emerging policy themes?
The Wilderness Society Who Holds the Power Report: <https://www.wilderness.org.au/community-power/environmental-community-rights>
- 21 7. Is there any additional information you would like to see in the Measuring What Matters Statement? If so, please outline.
