

Regional banking is a must.

To the Regional Banking Taskforce,

Many regional country towns in all Australian States no longer have a bank or even an ATM to provide them with the services all Australians deserve.

If the Big 4 are not prepared to offer the same services that are available in larger towns & cities, surely regional banking should be available at Post Offices that are willing to provide the services the banks have withdrawn.

Australians want solutions, not platitudes.

We , the people of Australia, insist that you support the postal bank option.

Sincerely,
Allan Ford
